A warm welcome to WORKTECH23 Sydney

WORKTECH23 Sydney is the conference for all those involved in the future of work and the workplace as well as real estate, technology and innovation.

Never before has the workplace, and the way we work been so high on the agenda for organisations. As we make the great return to the office, how can business leaders build engaging workplace experiences and cultures for their people?

You are invited to join 300+ senior professionals from real estate, facilities, HR, technology, executive management, architecture, design and professional advisors to listen to global thought leaders and share best practice and expertise.

The conference will be run in one stream, which means our delegates will get to attend every speaker presentation. We will also have a curated innovation exhibition happening in the breakout areas for attendees to meet with our education partners, complementing learning throughout the day, as well as three networking breaks, creating time for attendees to meet the other participants.

We hope you will be able to join us and we are looking forward to welcoming you to the event on 4th April.

Warmest regards,
Isabel

MEET THE SPEAKERS

WORKTECH23 Sydney will attract some of the biggest and brightest names to debate, discuss, and divulge the latest thinking on the future of work and the workplace.

The conference will feature leading international thinkers from industry and academia. Our speakers represent some of the world's biggest brands and best universities and research departments, alongside radical visionaries from new innovative organisations.

Through interdisciplinary speakers and learning experience, we focus on bringing cutting edge ideas and inspiration to the workplace community to enhance creativity and move thinking forward. Instead of focusing on peer to peer innovation through imitation, we aim to curate a unique programme, bringing together experts in the fields of people, place and technology and relevant adjacencies to reflect on the future of work and workplace.

Alongside the conference series, the WORKTECH Academy knowledge hub explores the future of work through six key themes: people, place, technology, design, culture and innovation. Creating leading commentary, research and publications that places scientific research at the heart of key business problems. www.worktechacademy.com

SESSION HIGHLIGHTS

The future of work and the workplace is on everyone's agenda. This event brings thought leaders together to share cutting edge ideas on the future, from both a people, place, and technology perspective. It will allow an understanding of the key drivers of change and enablers of innovation that will shape how, where and when work takes place.

Key themes we will be discussing at this event include:

The New World of Work: Challenges & Emerging Trends

The pandemic has been a catalyst of re-shaping and re-thinking a new world of work. We examine what's on the horizon for the future of work, looking at how business leaders should respond and what should they prioritise in the months ahead?

Workplace Experience

Companies are accelerating plans to invest in new technology, create flexible working environments and make the office a destination. We will examine the latest workplace technologies and innovations that will support workplace experience and the built environment in 2023 and beyond.

People-Centered Spaces: Cultivating Culture & Engagement

How can companies make the office an attractive proposition to employees who now have more choice in where and how they work? We discuss the post pandemic impact on work, space, buildings and the effects on employee and company productivity, well-being, behaviour, and culture.

Airbnb Offices: Seriously Fun and Suddenly Relevant

Aaron Taylor-Harvey, Creative Director, Spaces of

The pandemic threw the typical office environment into stark relief. And the digital fluency / remote productivity of employees threatened its entire existence. Hybrid is the answer, but no one wants to work in a new way in the old space; they need something compelling to return to: they need a Destination, that's what we created at Airbnb, and this talk explores the elements of these spaces that can be recreated and reinterpreted to create the post-covid office all employees deserve.

State of the Global Workplace

Camilla Frumar, Senior Consultant, Gallup

Camilla will examine key global trends and explore what they mean for leaders and organisations. What are the primary factors causing a decrease in employee wellbeing and the resulting increase in burnout and health problems? How can organisations create a culture of high engagement and wellbeing? What are the key risks and opportunities for organisations regarding employees' positive perception of the job market and what are the implications for talent attraction and retention strategies?

Unworking: The Reinvention of the Modern Office

Philip Ross, Futurologist & CEO, Cordless Group & UnWork

Over the past hundred years, the office has been integral to the development of modern society. It has shaped the architecture of our cities, the behaviour of our organizations and the everyday movements of millions of people. In 2020, however, the global pandemic brought our attendance in the office to an abrupt halt and triggered a complete re-evaluation of the purpose of the workplace. Philip will advance a manifesto for 'Unworking' - unlearning old habits established for an outdated office and creating new ones fit for an age of digital technology, innovation, and diverse workforces.

Jason Pollard, Executive Director
Retail Strategy, APAC, Landor & Fitch

LANDOR & FITCH

As of Dec 2022, both Sydney and Melbourne are at an office occupancy rate 59% of pre-COVID volumes. Some believe this is close to the new capacity as the 3-day average working from office week becomes the norm. In a hope to lure workers back to our CBD's, local governments are breaking all the rules to create never seen before opportunities for extraordinary CBD experiences. We've been talking to some of Australia's best-known brands about just that...

Neil Schneider, Former Chief Executive of Stockton Borough Council and Senior Fellow of the Institute of Place Management

Stockton-on-Tees is leading a radical rethink of our urban centres, forget shops, this UK town ripped up the rule book to revive its high street. The decline in Britain's town centres and high streets had been inexorable but slow-burning. The pandemic, hollowing out urban centres and accelerating the shift online, has led to a tipping point. The Stockton vision is to buy up, repurpose, restore, and reconfigure the heart of the town, emphasising events, independent enterprise, green space, and conviviality. The whole purpose being to emotionally reconnect the town centre to local people, instilling excitement, pride and a sense of belonging. Leading place-based regeneration is complex and no quick fix. Passionate leadership and partnerships have been a critical foundation to drive one of the most ambitious plans of its type in the UK.

14:00 EXPERT PANEL WORKPLACE LEADERS

Jennifer Saiz, EGM Group Corporate Services, Commonwealth Bank of Australia / Jodette Cleary, Chief People and Culture Officer, Hipages / Dr. Peter Simpson, Global Head Safety & Security, Standard Chartered

What the next 18 months might look like? As hybrid working evolves, many are questioning the role workplaces will play in the emerging ecosystem of hybrid work. And now that many have returned to the shared spaces, how we prepare for the next phase of our work evolution.

14:20 INCLUSIVITY BY DESIGN

Dr. Christine Bruckner, Director, Moser Associates

There is a clear moral imperative to make workplaces more diverse and inclusive – it's fundamentally the right thing to do. But there's also a business case for prioritising diversity and inclusivity. When employees feel like they belong, it directly impacts their wellbeing and productivity. With approximately 15-20% of the population being 'neurodivergent', it is possible that they will not thrive in a 'traditional' workspace. Therefore, to truly support the unique requirements of individuals and drive innovative thinking, behaviour-based design is essential.

14:40 EXPERT PANEL: EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES RE-SHAPING THE WAY WE WORK

Jo-Anne Mann, RVP, APAC, Eptura / Angela Barwick, Head of Specility Sales, APAC, JLL Technologies / Andrew Conquest, Asia Pacific Strategy and Execution Leader, EY

In the age of the "anywhere office", technology will play a more vital role than ever. It is now crucial for businesses to leverage data to understand how people are using workspaces and implement technologies that will keep teams connected, organized, safe and ultimately enhance their experience and productivity.

15:00 COFFEE & NETWORKING BREAK

15:35 STATE OF THE GLOBAL WORKPLACE

How can organisations create a culture of high engagement and wellbeing? What are the key risks and opportunities for organisations regarding employees' positive perception of the job market and what are the implications for talent attraction and retention strategies?

15:55 BUILDING A SENSE OF COMMUNITY IN A HYBRID WORKPLACE

Alex Murphy, Managing Director of UTS College / Eoin Higgins, Head of Business Growth AU/NZ, Senior Consultant, Veldhoen + Company

One of the challenges of hybrid ways of working is in maintaining a sense of connection. Connection to our peers and to the organisation. UTS College reimaged their way of working around the principles of Connection, Collaboration, Creativity and Connection. Hear about the innovative process they followed and the outcomes it delivered.

16:15 NAILING THE HYBRID BALANCE BETWEEN PEOPLE, PLACE, AND TECHNOLOGY

Catherine Sullivan, Principal, Property Strategy & Experience, Telstra /
Katherine Divett, CEO, Puzzle Partners

The hybrid working solution is not a “one size fits all” equation. Businesses who embrace this change and use the diversity and drive of their people to build a new “workplace” environment that fits the culture, values and mission of their organisation are thriving. Navigating workplace change is not new. Whilst the current situation may seem overwhelming, we can look to past success in putting people at the centre of place and purpose to adapt to today’s business environment.

16:35 LEADING HUMANS IN THE HYBRID WORLD OF WORK

Gauri Bhalla, Faculty, The School of Life

Human leadership is so important to the world of work because humans are not machines. Although AI can mine our past patterns and data, humans are constantly evolving and by our very nature illogical. Therefore, we need humans to lead and understand each other in the moment - this is the skill of being self aware, agile and able to connect deeply with other humans. Join us as we discuss what makes a good leader in our current work context, the role of appreciation and how to develop an authentic leadership style.

16:55 INTRO TO THE MODERN

Luke Johnson, Principal, Architectus

architectus

This once-in-a-generation project is an important transformation of a public institution into a two-building art museum that almost doubles the space for the display and enjoyment of art. A new standalone building, public art garden and revitalised historic building brings together art, architecture, and landscape in spectacular new ways.
